INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY IN PRACTICE

How to identify, protect and valorise your IP

02.10.2026 | 14:00 – 17:00

NOI TECHPARK, SEMINAR ROOM 3

Ideas, research results, inventions, technical know-how: intellectual property can take many forms. But when does knowledge become an asset? How can you protect it? And how can patents, licensing or spin-offs help turn IP into real value?

At Intellectual Property in Practice, we bring together experts from patent offices, IP law firms, research organisations, start-ups and companies to take a practical look at intellectual property: You will get a clear introduction to the topic, insights from different perspectives, and time to connect with professionals and peers over networking in Noisteria.

The event is designed for researchers, inventors, start-ups, entrepreneurs, technology transfer officers and knowledge transfer organisations – and for everyone who works with ideas, technologies or research results that could become valuable assets.
